RET MODUS IN REBUS. WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1881,

JOHN S. WALKER.

A REFRINT which we publish from a New York paper of an actual fact touches a true blot upon the civilization of the United States. The San Francisco Chronis's has been drawing upon the fer-tile imagination of its writers to find accusations against the planters of these islands, but even their besmirched pens cannot issess anything more disgraceful, more horrible than the real facts of Mormon polygamy. When the history of the 19th century comes to be written, a niche of infamy will certainly be apportioned to all who have been connected with this atrocious mockery of religion, and it will always be a matter of wonder that a civilized country could tolerate such criminality so long within its borders. If the Carrain's were true-hearted in its crusade against wrong, it could find plenty to say against this crying sin, lying within the borders of its own country: this is a wrong which needs hard words and constant and unremittin; attack; such a crusade would meet with the approval of every right-thinking citizen, not only of the United States but of the world, and if successful in stirring up public opinion sufficiently as to force the Executive to deal with the matter, would earn the gratitude of mankind. When one thinks of the oily and yet cold-blooded villains who have been at the head of this sect and of their miserable dupes and such a condition of things has ever been allowed to continue.

plain of the lack of "outside backing" and popular support, and that the failure to obtain them is largely if not mainly, owing to another fact, viz., that the Ministers carry on their work apart from the public, before whom they never lay their policy, we pointed out the very different system that prevails in other countries, particularly England. We think the present a particularly favorable time to bring the subject again before our readers and now submit to them the following result of our reading. Taking up the Times of Oct. 28th, the latest issue in our hands, we read : "Mr. Gladstone at Liverpool. entered into an elaborate justification of the recent government action in Ireland," etc. "Three Cabinet Ministers divered political speeches on Tuesday-Sir W. Harcourt at Glasgow, Mr. Cham-berlain at Liverpool, and Mr. Dodson at Scarborough." "Political speeches were Beeckie Scarborough." made by seven members of Parliament," whose names are given. Turning to the opening remarks of Sir W. Harcourt, the Home Secretary, or as we here say, "Minister of the Interior" we read: "When I risk any dangers, in order to see a fight received your invitation to be present to-night, I felt it was a summons I could not decline, for, in my opinion, politicians who are called upon to take a practical part in the conduct of affairs, do well to invigorate the spirit, it may be, to correct their judgment, by personal and imme-diate contact with great assemblies of their fellow countrymen. . . . It is a good thing to introduce popular fibre into a government and to bring it into har-mony with the public sentiment of the "etc. This is the kind of spirit needed here.

A FURTNIOUT ago we took occasion to criticize an article in the P. C. A. concerning the probability of the continuance of the Hawaiian race, and we set forth some of the reasons which compelled our dissent from the opinion professed by our colleague. In our last issue we published a letter by Dr. Rogers, taking exceptions to certain of our reasons. We note the following points: I. "You give your readers to understand that " * * * the to certain of our reasons. We note the following points: I. "You give your readers to understand that " " " the natives, as a rule, concealed the cases occurring among their friends and relatives, and that the cases voluntarily reported were the exception," Our words were the exception," Our words were the exception, "Our words were the exception," Our words were the exception, "Our words were the exception," Our words were the exception, "Our words were the exception of the ex

But let us not suppose that the necessity of holding the tabu on the upper Nuuanu valley will have ceased. Far Mr. Armstrong's summing up on genper Nuuanu valley will have ceased. Far from it, we would gladly see the tabu extended to the Panca valley and indeed, to the hills above the town. We are perhaps, liable to forget that not only does forest moderate climate and equalize the rainfall, but what is to our more immediate purpose, it prevents or moderates floods. Now the finding of the Numanu and Panca proved deals with the wort of the matter it. streams are often violent and destructive, shows what style of people, especially in less so, we have reasons to believe, in the case of the former stream since the forest their hopes were. We are now suffering and long grass has been allowed to grow from the garbled stories of people of this unchecked. We would therefore, earnestly class, and Mr. Armstrong certainly showof confirming and extending the policy of consecrating to the Goddess of Public Health the basins of the streams above port gives a considerable amount of indown as possible, even to the very foot of Punchbowl. There is in the Nunanu valley abundant space for "agricultural pur-poses, private residences and santariums" below the limit of the tabued district against any encroschment on which we established, and according to the Celestial Empire would most strongly product would most strongly protest.

Now this is quite in the nature of an inhe is urging this matter of immigration, and has especially insisted on the depar-ture of Mr. Carter on that mission. This can easily be ascertained by any one who wishes to know the fact. The statement made current by the Adecriser, and evipronounced "too thin;" "too attenuated," the pleasant phrase used regarding the King's act. In this case, the P. C. We need emigration, and so long as there is a fair chance of Mr. Carter's probably or possi-

But we are convinced that the supremely important matter of getting Portuguese laborers is in an unsatisfactory condition; we much prefer to have that matter put right than in the Legislature.

Wg publish in our supplement to-day the long-looked-for report of the Commis-sioner of Immigration. Whatever may be the light in which it may be viewed by those who peruse it, we are sure it will be the Indian coolie question, and Mr. Armstrong answers, at last, most of the ones tion which were put in an article that appeared in the Gazzers of Oct. 13th, 1880.

From what we read in the report, it is perfectly plain that no labor can be obtained from India without passing laws which would have to be submitted to the Indian government for approval, and that upon this matter there will be no modi-fication in our favor. Mr. Alexander tells us that he would have had no difficulty in obtaining upwards of one thousand manigrants. The people imported by the Muses and the Bets, were not drawn from the class most suited to our needs. Many of them were towns-people, and some of very inferior character. Country people could now be obtained if desired. Many of us may remember Boffins, the Golder Dustman, in Dicken's tale, "Our Mutual Friend," and some may have thought such a character alto those who peruse it, we are sure it will be read with interest; the advocates of the Hindu Coolie Immigration will find considerable food for reflection, and no doubt there will be some controversy on the subject.
